

Moving Social Work

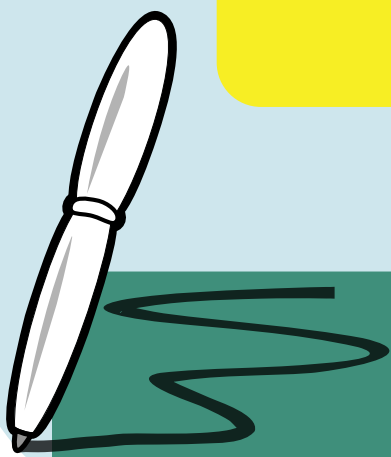

The moving social work programme will create resources and co-design strategies for the education of the social workers of tomorrow. Below is the four-stage process which began in November 2020 and will end in December 2023

Step 1

Scoping

During this stage, we have worked together to develop a consensus on what content is needed and the correct approaches to developing it.

Step 2

Content Production

In this second stage, we develop the initial pilot content based on the conclusions and agreements made in stage 1.

Step 3

Effectiveness Testing

Now the real work begins! The third stage involves rigorously testing the programme's effectiveness with universities and CPD modules with current social workers.

Step 4

Final Production

In the final stage, we review all of the feedback and evidence we gathered in stage three and use it to shape the production and we will then aim for a national rollout

Want to learn more?

Visit www.GetYourselfActive.org/resources

Organisations Involved

The moving social work programme is led by Disability Rights UK, Sport England and Durham University